Introduction

Our vision

Our vision is simple. We want people to live healthy and independent lives, supported by thriving and connected communities with timely and easy access to high quality and efficient health and care services when they need them. We can only do this if we work together with our partners in the health and care system and with our patients and the public.

We are Somerset Clinical Commissioning Group

We plan, buy and monitor most local NHS services in Somerset. We work with health care providers to make sure that services meet the needs of our population.

These services include:

- community services
- hospital services
- mental health services
- urgent care and emergency services
- and GP services including out of hours primary care services.

We are a membership organisation made up of 65 GP practices. On 01 April 2019 we took on delegated authority for primary care commissioning. We have a patient population of 580,000 and a budget of around £860million.

We work with our community to ensure improved, patient-centred care, to reduce health inequalities, to raise quality and standards in a way which is efficient and financially sustainable, and to empower patients to manage their care and conditions. We are committed to engaging widely with our population and stakeholders to make sure that we commission services in line with our local needs.

The health and wellbeing of our patient population is our number one concern. Their views about the services we provide – or may provide in future – are central to our plans. We believe that by putting people at the heart of our plans we will provide better services and make sure that people have access to the right advice, care and treatment at the right time and in the right place.

Our values shape our behaviour and our approach. Our values relate to both our staff as individuals and to working with others: personal integrity, compassion, self-awareness, quality improvement and integrated working.

We want the people of Somerset to help us develop their local health care services and have real involvement in decision making. This strategy aims to show how we can achieve this together. Promoting opportunities, wellbeing and good health for people locally is a key target within the Joint Strategic Needs Assessment, our operational plan and our strategy.

This communications and engagement strategy has been produced through a series of conversations with the people of Somerset, our stakeholders, our staff and our partners. It sets out what we hope to achieve, how we will do this and how we will know if we have reached our objectives. We believe that by working together we can make a real difference for the people of Somerset.

Our engagement and communications strategy will adapt and respond to our changing external environment as we move towards a Somerset Integrated Care System.

Why we engage and communicate

The people of Somerset are at the heart of everything we do. Our approach to commissioning is to work in partnership with our patients, residents, partnership organisations, GP practices and staff to deliver patient-centred, clinically-led, and evidence-based healthcare. We want to support people in Somerset to live happy and healthy lives with better access to good quality care.

We have a unique perspective on the health service in Somerset as we serve the county's entire population. We want to inspire the services we commission to commit to continuous quality improvement and to innovate new ways of delivering high quality care. We are working with our GP member practices to improve and transform primary care. We are working with all our partners and providers to improve not only the quality of care but equity of care – removing variation across the system and supporting parity of esteem for mental health with physical health.

We are active partners in the health and care system in Somerset and we are committed to providing value for money at all times. We have a clear responsibility to ensure that local services meet local needs. We do this by proactively seeking patient and public input, and widely advertising how local residents and community groups can influence and help shape our work. We join local and regional conversations – we know that not everyone will come to us so it's important that we go to them, listen and engage in a meaningful two-way dialogue.

We will listen to what the people of Somerset tell us. We also listen to our providers and partners. We take action as appropriate and regularly report what we have heard and what we have done to provide assurance and reassurance to the people of Somerset.

Where we are now

We have made good progress on developing joined up plans as part of working towards a single system approach for Somerset. Combining the Health and Wellbeing Strategy ('Improving Lives') and the health and care services strategy ('Fit for my Future') we are increasingly able to join up our ways of working, our resources and our long term transformation plans.

We know that in the past we haven't been as good as we could be at listening to the people who live or work in Somerset. To help us change this, we have brought our communications and engagement teams together to develop new ways of working to improve how we listen and use the information we gather to help shape and change services.

The response rate to our annual 360 stakeholder survey dropped slightly from 67% in 2018 to 66% in 2019.

Overall the results for 2019 show a significant improvement across the board from 2018. In particular stakeholders' rating of their working relationship with the CCG improved from 51% to 87%. However, we are concerned that our working relationship with some of our partners did not score as well as we would have wished.

We have not undertaken a staff survey since 2017. A revised annual staff survey is currently in development and will give us a baseline to use for measurement. In addition, an internal communications pulse check has been launched which will be repeated every three months to measure satisfaction with internal communication and canvas ideas for improvements and developments.

To make sure our communications and engagement activity is effective we need to make sure that we understand our audiences, their interests and their needs. Audience insight data is a key building block for effective communication and engagement. As part of our communications and engagement strategy we will develop an audience insight programme. All personal information will be handled in accordance with information governance requirements and GDPR regulations.

Where we want to be

We want to put the patient and public voice at the heart of everything we do. We aim to be system leaders who support our providers to improve and innovate.

Achieving our communications and engagement objectives will mean that we:

- achieve representative views, comments, opinions from our populations and use them to inform our work
- effectively embed engagement throughout our work to deliver patient centred, clinical led evidence based care
- can measure an improvement in patient care and public representatives working with us on procurement, service design and redesign to improve services
- have effective social media, video and photography to promote key messages and coproduction opportunities which represents the work we do for our population
- help our residents and stakeholders understand our objectives and priorities for local health care
- think, write, and speak in clear concise English using everyday language (see Appendix 4)
- signpost appropriately to support our populations to navigate local health services and promote easy access into services
- have strong partnerships with stakeholders to promote prevention and self-care
- support people with long term conditions to manage their own care where appropriate
- use patient feedback to triangulate intelligence on patient experience to improve patient safety and the quality of local services.

A dedicated Consultation Strategy is in development which will clearly set out how we will carry out formal public consultation to make sure everyone who lives and works in Somerset has the opportunity to have a say in the future of local health services.

Our communications and engagement objectives

Objective 1:

To build trusted relationships with groups and individuals in Somerset.

This is important because it will:

- help people to understand what we are doing and why we are doing it
- help people to share their experiences of health and care services in Somerset
- help to support the development of services to meet local need
- support us to listen and show groups and individuals how their feedback is making a difference
- identify seldom heard voices

We will do this by:

- mapping and identifying gaps in how we engage and communicate with groups and people
- planning how to fill the identified gaps to reach as many people as possible
- undertaking outreach to make sure we are talking to seldom heard groups
- reviewing the purpose and membership of our Somerset Engagement and Advisory Group
- engaging more with the voluntary and community sector
- reviewing the purpose and content of our engagement bulletin
- making sure we use your feedback and stories to improve services and telling you what we have done – making ‘you said, we did’ part of our everyday language
- having regular conversations with our staff and GP practice members
- developing and maintaining proactive media relations

We will also

- ask people how they want to be involved
- connect with established groups already in place
- prioritise face to face and small group conversations where we can
- make sure internal and external audiences are aware of our developments, successes and challenges

Outcomes:

The people of Somerset feel informed and are aware of how they can feedback to us, feel confident to discuss issues with us and assured that these will be acted upon.

Our stakeholders and audiences see us as a trusted, credible organisation which is leading the development of local NHS services.

Staff feel valued and able to express their ideas and opinions, positively impacting on recruitment and retention.

Objective 2:

To encourage the public to have their say by making it as easy as possible for them to talk to us

This is important because it will

- help us promote active and meaningful engagement
- show our commitment to simple, effective communications and engagement
- help us listen to the experiences of patients and use their feedback to improve services
- make sure we hear the voices of groups and individuals who are often seldom heard by the NHS

We will do this by:

- developing a common language which is simple, easy to understand and engaging and which promotes a shared understanding
- developing accessible communications channels and documents
- tailoring communications to suit individual needs (translation services, large print, audio etc)
- establishing closer relationships with local media to reach those without access to the internet
- making sure public information is current and accurate; providing consistency across the system
- making events and meetings more accessible

We will also:

- use Healthwatch Somerset's reading panel to test our documents and publications
- adopt the reading age check as our basic standard for communication
- develop our jargon buster for ease of reference but commit to keeping our communications as jargon free as possible

Outcomes:

The people of Somerset understand the challenges we face and the changes that we need to make and have the opportunity to have their voice heard.

The people of Somerset are well informed and have a good understanding of local services and what is available to them.

The people of Somerset feel more able to engage with us and their trust in us increases.

Objective 3:

To make sure everyone can access information about what we are doing and why we are doing it.

This is important because it will:

- help people to understand the challenges we face and why we make the decisions we do
- show our commitment to honest communication which is simple to understand
- show that we are using feed back from local people to make real changes
- build trusted relationships with groups and individuals in Somerset

We will do this by:

- taking a transparent, open and honest approach to our communications and engagement activity
- supporting people to hold us to account
- working with system partners to share our common vision for NHS services in Somerset and maximise engagement and understanding
- creating a shared visual identity which reflects the NHS in Somerset and the future we are building together
- developing our social media channels as an effective communications and engagement mechanism
- training and supporting the professional development of our communications and engagement staff

We will also:

- measure and evaluate our communications and engagement activity
- establish regular reporting internally and externally

Outcomes:

Our population and stakeholders are confident that we are acting in the interests of the people of Somerset and that we have a clear vision for the future of local health services.

The people of Somerset have the information they need to improve their own health and wellbeing.

Staff feel valued and their training and development needs are supported, improving recruitment and retention.

Objective 4

Support our staff to hear the public voice in the commissioning of services.

This is important because it will

- help us to improve the quality and experience of the services we commission
- help us to understand the needs of local people and develop services to meet those needs
- build public confidence in us as a listening organisation
- show how we use feedback from the public to make changes and improve services

We will do this by:

- supporting staff to understand the purpose and value of high quality engagement
- training and developing our staff to be confident in engaging with all audiences and supporting them to understand the power of public and patient engagement
- learning from good practice and what is working well elsewhere in the county and country
- developing how we bring the patient voice into our organisation
- capturing the patient and public voice
- make engagement a core part of business as usual throughout the organisation

We will also

- make sure we listen as well as talk
- close the loop and feed back to everyone on how engagement has made a difference
- support our staff to be ambassadors for our work

Outcomes:

People in Somerset feel that they have had the opportunity to give their views and have been involved in decisions around the development and delivery of local health care services.

Governing Body, staff and GP members understand their role and what is expected of them in terms of consultation and engagement and have the support they need to do this effectively.

Our communications and engagement activity is focused on our core organisational objectives.

Staff feel valued and able to express their ideas and opinions, positively impacting on recruitment and retention.

Our digital communications strategy

Vision:

To build a community of engaged stakeholders on social media which will support us to achieve our corporate objectives and build a positive organisational reputation.

Strategy:

- To put in place the required strategies, policies and plans to ensure a focused and effective social media service
- To support the development of a strong corporate identity which reflects us as a leader in the Somerset health and social care system and a good place in which to work
- To develop more effective social media channels, achieving a wider reach and supporting our organisational objectives.

Our model of engagement

The 'Ladder of engagement' is the framework we use for understanding different forms and degrees of patient and public participation. It is useful to consider it when planning the types of engagement required for different programmes of work.

Our intention is always to reach the highest possible level that is appropriate to the discussion or issue being considered. We don't just want to listen to people, we want to involve people in designing and producing new ways of working, changes to services etc.

Devolving	Placing decision-making in the hands of the community and individuals. For example, Personal Health Budgets or a community development approach.
Collaborating	Working in partnership with communities and patients in each aspect of the decision, including the development of alternatives, and the identification of the preferred solution.
Involving	Working directly with communities and patients to ensure that concerns and aspirations are consistently understood and considered. For example, partnership boards, reference groups, and service users participating in policy groups
Consulting	Obtaining community and individual feedback on analysis, alternatives and / or decisions. For example, surveys, door knocking, citizens' panels and focus groups.
Informing	Providing communities and individuals with balanced and objective information to assist them in understanding problems, alternatives, opportunities, solutions. For example, websites, newsletters and press releases.

In addition, we will use our Somerset Equality Impact Assessment tool (Appendix 5) to assess the impact of new or existing policies / services on particular groups of people, to find out if there is a positive or negative outcome and make reasonable changes where possible. It is an opportunity to identify possible disadvantages, decide if they are discriminatory and the extent to which discrimination can be eliminated, minimised or justified.

Audience and stakeholders

Building trusted relationships is vital to the success of our strategy. We must understand who our key stakeholders are and their role in the delivery of our vision and objectives. We recognise that there are different levels of engagement with our stakeholders, from informing or influencing, to consulting, to full co-production, and this is acknowledged below. We will use the most appropriate approach towards engagement depending on the requirements and needs of each particular piece of work.

Messages

Consistent high-level messages support our communication and engagement strategy. They also provide us with a clear voice to our population, communities and stakeholders on key issues. Together with our partners, we will co-ordinate consistent repetition of key messages to our audiences and stakeholders.

Our high-level key messages are:

- patient and public engagement and involvement is at the heart of everything we do
- we are a clinically-led organisation dedicated to improving the health and wellbeing of the people of Somerset
- we plan, buy and monitor local health services
- we work in partnership with GPs, local NHS providers, the County Council and third sector organisations
- we are planning for both your future and ours with patients, carers, public and partners
- we are committed to continuous quality improvement. We proactively support our providers to aspire to excellent/outstanding services
- we use our funding and resources wisely to achieve value for money
- we encourage feedback from patients, staff, carers, the public and partners and act on it
- we are committed to staff personal and professional development and supporting wellbeing. We value and invest in our people.

Campaigns

Each year we will run a number of dedicated communications campaigns to address national, regional and local issues.

External:

- Winter (including flu vaccination) – Stay Well Somerset
- Prevention – diabetes
- Prevention – cancer
- Mental health and challenging stigma

Delivery, outcomes and evaluation

We have an action plan for 2019-2020. During each of the next two years we will publish an action plan for the year ahead based on our objectives, priorities, as well as feedback from the staff, patients and our stakeholders. We will report bi monthly to Governing Body on progress against the annual action plan, as well as goals and outcomes for where we want to be in April 2022.

Legal responsibilities

The Health and Social Care Act 2012 amended existing duties under the NHS Act 2006; these amendments include two complementary duties for CCGs with respect to patient and public participation.

Individual participation duties: CCGs must promote the involvement of patients and carers in decisions which relate to their care and treatment.

This requires collaboration between patients, carers and professionals, recognising the expertise and contribution made by all. The duty requires CCGs to ensure they commission services which promote the involvement of patients across the spectrum of prevention or diagnosis, care planning, treatment and care management.

Public participation and consultation: The second duty places a requirement on CCGs to ensure public involvement and consultation in commissioning processes and decisions.

This includes involvement of patients, carers and the public in:

- the planning of commissioning arrangements, which may include consideration of resource allocation, needs assessment and service specification
- proposed changes to services that may impact on patients.

Policy and Guidance

Clear guidance for how CCGs can achieve their duties for both individual and public participation can be found within the following documents:

Patient and Public Participation Guidance – NHS England
Patient and Public Participation Policy – NHS England 2017

CCGs also have legal obligations in regards to equalities and reducing health inequalities. In particular, they must have due regard for the need to:

- eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act
- advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not
- foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not.

Joint Strategy Needs Assessment

Somerset is the twelfth largest county in the country. Nearly half the population live in the countryside with border-to-border travel times east to west of two hours and north to south of one hour. The population is approximately 580,000. One in five of the resident population is now aged over 65 with West Somerset having the highest percentage of people over 65 at 33% of the population.

Among the 65-74 age group, the annual rate of growth was an estimated 2.4%, the rate for England being 1.5%. This partly reflects the attraction of Somerset as a retirement destination, and also the post-war baby-boom generation reaching retirement age.

While life expectancy for both men and women in Somerset is higher than the national average, the gap between total and healthy life expectancy is increasing, and an average person can expect to spend the last 16 years of life in ill health.

There are approximately 57 rough sleepers across Somerset. Somerset tends to have low levels of rough sleepers due to its lack of cities. However, local authorities in Somerset received 655 homelessness applications during 2017/18. The ratio of house price to earnings is greater than the national average in all the Somerset housing authorities. In West Somerset, house prices at market entry levels are ten times the average earnings figure, making it especially difficult for young people to afford their own homes.

The proportion of the Somerset population who are from White British groups is significantly higher than the national average at 94.6% compared to 79.8%, with 2.8% of the population being from 'other white' backgrounds. The BME population now comprises 2.0% of Somerset's overall population, which is well below the national average of 14.0%. There are an estimated 733 Gypsy or Irish Traveller residents in Somerset, the second highest number of any local authority in the South West. Just over a third are resident in Mendip.

According to the Child Poverty JSNA Report 2016, 12.9% of children in Somerset are estimated to live in poverty. Levels of child poverty in Somerset are consistently below South West and national averages, but mask significant variations at lower geographical levels. There are a total of 11 Somerset wards where the proportion of children in poverty is at least one in five (20%).

The Childhood Obesity JSNA 2016 advises that prevalence of obesity remains of concern for children in Somerset. In year 6, 30.3% of children are overweight or obese, which is slightly higher than the regional average of 30.1% but lower than the national average 34.2%.

The annual JSNA is carried out by the local Public Health Department in partnership with Somerset County Council, the NHS, and community representatives. It is founded on a strong evidence base of need. It provides a comprehensive local picture of health and wellbeing needs and how they may develop in the future and is focused on the needs of the population, not individuals.

The full JSNA can be found online at <http://www.somersetintelligence.org.uk/jsna/> and should be referred to in order to understand the full, complex picture of health and wellbeing of people who live in the area Somerset CCG covers.

Clear and plain English guidelines

To be followed alongside our house style guide

Ten tips for clearer writing

These are recommendations, not rules: be flexible! You can discuss all these (and more) with your communications and engagement team.

Think of your audience, not yourself.

Don't try to impress people by using your language to show off: keep it as straightforward as possible. Imagine you are speaking to someone, and write in that more relaxed way.

Use short sentences.

A good average sentence length ('ASL') is 15 to 20 words. Use shorter ones for 'punch'. Longer ones should not have more than three items of information; otherwise they get overloaded, and readers lose track.

Be careful with jargon.

Jargon is very useful, but only if people are familiar with it. Be prepared to explain your jargon words and acronyms — will your audience know them?

Use 'active' verbs mainly, not 'passive' ones.

Using the active is shorter and clearer; using the passive can be longer and sometimes confusing. Try to write 90% in the active. The other 10% — yes, you will find the passive more suitable.

n 'A report will be sent to your doctor.' (passive) n 'We will send a report to your doctor.' (active)

Don't underline.

It is tempting to do this, but it achieves very little. It can be distracting, making the text harder to read. Proper spacing does the job. And ...

Use lower case bold for emphasis, not block capitals.

Block capitals are hard to read, so don't put text in upper case. Use lower case bold. For headings, if need be, use large lower case bold.

Put complex information into bullet points.

Plan and draft your writing. If you have a lot of information to convey, make it easier for the reader by breaking it up into logical 'stepping stones'.

Write small numbers.

In text, write numbers one to nine as words; with 10 and upwards, put the figure. But be flexible. Probably with medicines it is clearer to write 'Take 2 tablets 4 times a day.'

Use everyday words.

Big words, foreign phrases, bursts of Latin and so on usually confuse people. Consequently, it is a sine qua non of plain English not to write too polysyllabically! So, for plain English, use everyday words.

Use the 'personal touch'.

Any organisation, however grand, can quickly become 'we'. Then the 'customer', 'client' or 'patient' simply becomes 'you'.

EQUALITY IMPACT ASSESSMENT FORM

INITIAL INFORMATION

Name of policy/service: Version number (if relevant):	Directorate/Service:
Assessor's Name and Job Title: Telephone:	Date:
Sponsoring Director/Council Officer:	Date:

Please refer to the Equality Impact Assessment Guidance to complete this form.

OUTCOMES

Briefly describe the aim of the policy / service and state the intended outcomes for patients and / or staff?

EVIDENCE

What data / information have you used to assess how this policy / service might impact on protected groups?

Who have you consulted with to assess possible impact on protected groups? If you have not consulted other people, please explain why?

ANALYSIS OF IMPACT ON EQUALITY

The Public Sector Equality Duty requires us to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations with protected groups. Consider how this policy / service will achieve these aims.

Please read ‘Questions to Ask’ in the EIA guidance.

Note: in some cases it is legal to treat people differently (objective justification).¹

- Positive outcome – the policy/service eliminates discrimination, advances equality of opportunity and fosters good relations with protected groups
- Negative outcome – protected group(s) could be disadvantaged or discriminated against
- Neutral outcome – there is no effect currently on protected groups

Please tick to show if outcome is likely to be positive, negative or neutral. Consider direct and indirect discrimination, harassment and victimisation.

Protected Group	Positive outcome	Negative outcome	Neutral outcome	Reason(s) for outcome
Age
Disability ²
Religion or belief
Sex

² Includes mental impairment, learning difficulty (dyslexia). Full definition in guidance.

Protected Group	Positive outcome	Negative outcome	Neutral outcome	Reason(s) for outcome
Sexual Orientation
Gender Reassignment
Race and ethnicity
Pregnancy and maternity
If applicable, Other Disadvantaged Groups (for example carers, veterans and military staff, homeless, rurality, low income, etc.) ³

MONITORING OUTCOMES

Monitoring is an ongoing process to check outcomes. It is different from a formal review which takes place at pre-agreed intervals.

What methods will you use to monitor outcomes on protected groups?

REVIEW

How often will you review this policy / service? (Minimum every three years)

³ These groups are not protected groups under the Equality Act 2010 but should be considered alongside the protected groups where applicable.

If a review process is not in place, what plans do you have to establish one?

IMPLEMENTING THE POLICY / SERVICE

Negative outcomes – action plan

An Equality Impact Assessment cannot be signed off until negative outcomes are addressed. What actions you have taken / plan to take to remove / reduce negative outcomes?

Action taken / Action to be taken	Date	Person responsible

If a negative outcome(s) remain explain why you think implementation is justified.
